If you are arriving in Belgrade by plane, the Nikola Tesla Airport is located about 12 kilometers from the city center. There are several ways to get from the airport to the city center, including by bus, taxi, or rental car.

Once you are in the city center, you can easily get around on foot or by using public transportation. The city has a network of buses, trams, and trolleybuses that can take you to most parts of the city.

If you are planning to do a lot of sightseeing, you may want to consider purchasing a Belgrade City Card. The card gives you unlimited access to public transportation, as well as discounts on admission to many of the city's museums and attractions.

Belgrade has a wide range of accommodation options to choose from, including hotels, hostels, and apartments. If you are looking for a centrally located hotel, you may want to consider staying in the Stari Grad (Old Town) or Dorćol neighborhoods. These neighborhoods are home to many of the city's most popular attractions, restaurants, and nightlife spots.

If you are on a budget, there are several hostels located in the city center. Hostels are a great way to meet other travelers and save money on accommodation.

If you are looking for a more spacious and private option, you may want to consider renting an apartment. Apartments are available in all parts of the city, and they can be a great option for families or groups of friends.

Belgrade is a city with a rich history and culture, and there is no shortage of things to see and do. Here are a few of the city's most popular attractions:

- Belgrade Fortress: This historic fortress is located on a hill overlooking the confluence of the Sava and Danube rivers. The fortress has been used for centuries to defend Belgrade, and it is now a popular tourist attraction.
- Skadarlija: This charming cobblestone street is lined with traditional Serbian restaurants and kafanas. Skadarlija is a great place to enjoy a meal or a drink, and it is also a popular spot for live music.
- Nikola Tesla Museum: This museum is dedicated to the life and work of Nikola Tesla, one of the world's most famous scientists. The museum houses a collection of Tesla's inventions, as well as documents and photographs from his life.
- Museum of Yugoslavia: This museum tells the story of Yugoslavia, from its formation in 1918 to its dissolution in 1992. The museum houses a collection of artifacts from the Yugoslav era, including photographs, documents, and works of art.
- Ada Ciganlija: This island is located in the middle of the Sava River, and it is a popular spot for swimming, sunbathing, and recreation. Ada Ciganlija is also home to a number of restaurants, bars, and nightclubs.

Serbian is the official language of Serbia, and it is spoken by the majority of the population. If you are planning to visit Belgrade, it is helpful to learn a few basic Serbian phrases.
