Mia's story begins on the planet Xarlon. Xarlon is a world that is very different from Earth. The people of Xarlon are not divided into male and female. Instead, they are all genderfluid. This means that they can change their gender at will.

Mia was born on Xarlon. As a child, she always felt different from the other children. She didn't like to play with dolls or wear dresses. She preferred to play with action figures and climb trees.

When Mia was a teenager, she discovered that she had superpowers. She could fly, she could shoot lasers from her eyes, and she could lift heavy objects with her mind. Mia decided to use her powers to help people. She became a superhero.

Mia's first mission was to stop a bank robbery. She flew into the bank and used her lasers to disarm the robbers. The robbers were so surprised that they surrendered without a fight.

Mia's next mission was to rescue a group of civilians from a burning building. She flew into the building and used her telekinesis to carry the civilians to safety. The civilians were so grateful that they gave Mia a standing ovation.
