You Love Me You is a novel by the award-winning author Jodi Picoult. The novel tells the story of a young woman who is brutally attacked and left for dead. She survives, but she is physically and emotionally scarred. The novel explores the themes of love, loss, and redemption.

The novel begins with a prologue that introduces the main character, Ally. Ally is a young woman who is living in New York City. She is beautiful, intelligent, and successful. She has a great job, a wonderful boyfriend, and a bright future ahead of her.

One night, Ally is walking home from work when she is attacked by a stranger. The attacker beats her and leaves her for dead. Ally is rushed to the hospital, where she undergoes surgery and is placed in a coma. She wakes up from the coma several weeks later, but she is physically and emotionally scarred. She has difficulty walking and talking, and she has flashbacks to the attack.

Ally's boyfriend, David, is devastated by the attack. He stays by her side in the hospital and helps her to recover. However, Ally is not the same person she was before the attack. She is withdrawn and depressed, and she has difficulty trusting people.

Ally eventually returns to work, but she is haunted by the memories of the attack. She sees her attacker everywhere she goes, and she is afraid that he will find her again. Ally's friends and family try to help her, but she is unable to move on from the trauma she has experienced.

One day, Ally meets a man named Jake. Jake is a kind and compassionate man who helps Ally to heal. He listens to her story and provides her with support. Ally begins to fall in love with Jake, but she is afraid to let him in. She is afraid that he will leave her once he learns about her past.

Jake is patient with Ally, and he eventually earns her trust. Ally and Jake begin a relationship, and Ally slowly begins to heal. She is able to let go of the past and move on with her life. She is still haunted by the memories of the attack, but she is no longer afraid to live.
